It is ideal for a variety of professional applications, including heavy duty missions, long-endurance missions, and precision aerial photography or surveying. Choosing this propeller helps ensure optimum performance and reliability, especially in demanding operating environments where power and efficiency are critical

OPTIMIZED MOMENT OF INERTIA

The prop shape was designed based on power dissipation, thrust, efficiency and moment inertia of a propeller, especially for the especial condition of multicopter aircrafts. Smaller tip area and bigger root area, it helped to get the optimized moment of inertia while remain the equal thrust output, so the responsive speed could be more sensitive.

Designed for Endurance Flight

Prop weight reduced by 20%-30%, flight time far extended
