Product Description

EV610 best drone for agriculture Can hold 10L crop dusting drones

Payload capacity (10L) :

The EV610 carries a 10-liter can and is commonly used in liquid fertilizers, pesticides, herbicides, or crop protection products. This payload is ideal for small and medium-sized farms and requires very few supplements for efficient spraying.

The capacity of the drone ensures that a larger area can be covered without the need to constantly return to resupply, thus reducing downtime.

Electric Power (EV) :

As an electric vehicle (EV) drone, the EV610 is powered by a high-capacity lithium battery, which is environmentally friendly and quiet when operating.

Depending on the load and terrain, it can stay in the air for about 10-25 minutes after each charge.

Replaceable battery system: The battery can be replaced quickly, thus minimizing downtime during spray operation.

Advanced autonomous flight:

The EV610 uses GPS and RTK (real-time Dynamic) positioning to achieve a highly accurate flight path, ensuring that no part of the field is missed or oversprayed.

Pre-programmed routes: Flight paths can be planned in advance using agricultural software, allowing drones to autonomously cover fields.

Terrain following technology: The drone can automatically adjust its height according to the terrain, ensuring even spraying over hills and valleys.
