Product Description

HX-1400 Vertical take-off and landing multirotor drone Toray 3K carbon fiber

Toray 3K carbon fiber frame

Light and strong: Toray 3K carbon fiber is a premium material with a high strength-to-weight ratio. This enables the HX-2580 to support heavy payloads without compromising flight performance. The stiffness of the frame contributes to stable flight, especially in strong winds or under heavy loads.

Durability: The 3K carbon fiber construction also has impact and vibration resistance, which reduces wear on critical flight components. It is especially useful in harsh or harsh operating environments.

Aerodynamics: The carbon fiber frame design ensures better aerodynamics, thereby increasing flight efficiency, reducing drag and improving overall power utilization. This helps to extend flight time and enhance stability in VTOL and horizontal flight modes.
